Gnomi, right? With the mage plus warlock group this is handled with fire and ice, but without Ula we only have fire and a group of gnomes loose around. Victory over Mekgineer Thermaplugg Thermaplugg dropped the Electromagnetic Gigaflux Reactivator, a nice piece of cloth head that went to Skronk on the caster roll-off. He earned it with his extra deaths. Dead on the ramp, mine on But at least we have one, and Skronk had the soul ready stone. We weren't sure what the mines would do, there was one on both sides of the Skronk corpse. He blew the stone of the soul and the mines immediately detonate, killing him again. After that we arrived at the punch machine, then to the gauntlet to fight our way back to the Electrocutioner 6000 area. At that time Alioto had been made with “coke machines” and Fergorin had taken hold of them. We thought it was better for someone to complete the mission rather than have some of us mostly done. (Not visible in the image because of the UI disabled.) In addition, the Cemetery, a short example already, was to compose a little more. There's a little less junk. You will notice that the entrance hall where the research donor is now almost completely devoid of bad guys. We went through the instance so fast that we were making a victory shot before I remembered taking any screen shot. At least it gives exp to the first attempt After we continued to the floor area where the Viscous Fallout lives. We were paying attention to pulling mobs, clearing a large area around the door before venting into. Only a couple of bombs broke up. They arenʼt ÃÂÂt aggro, at least if you play Alliance, but when youʼÃÂÂre in a fight and you see two or three more mobs running your way, it can cause a bit of panic. (Though he did bring his own friend.)Ã Some luck at last.Ã And then we found we could pull each of the mobs before the big door individually if we let them wander off by themselves.Ã We opened up the door and found a mixed group there, two elites and some non-elite helpers.Ã We took them on and managed to muddle through.Ã It turned out we could have taken each group individually, but I figured that out too late.Ã Ula went down in that fight, but Skronk was quick on the ress. We were crowded around the spawn point, but a group having just left and another lurking around nearby.Ã Not content to wait quietly, Obama started calling the other group ÃÂÂRepublicans.ÃÂÂÂ He is young, and in youth you find many things funny.Ã But he has also gotten a fair share of grief for his name choice.Ã At least my druidÃÂÂs name, also political, was just that of an SF mayor. Skronk went down a second time.Ã The only bright side at that point was that Mekgineer Thermaplugg was down to his last sliver of health, so we were able to burn him down.Ã The fight was won.Ã Moronae used his ress to bring Skronk back.Ã It was a messy win, but a win none the less.Ã We took our traditional screen shot with the dead boss. We were also becoming very diligent about zapping alarm bots when they showed up.Ã They only take a couple of hits, but if you donÃÂÂt get them youÃÂÂre going to have some adds. So I tried to do a runner and died.Ã Even gray elite can bring you down if there are enough of them.Ã So I ran back to the instance, revived, then stepped out again to reset the instance.Ã Once reset, I ran back in and did it again. "They wander around in group and get occasional walkers... well, the runner ... crossing, although the runners are at least not elite. As they tend to be the case, the mobs entering the instance were a lower level of us, but this changed as we moved further. For healing I use an addon called Healium. It is a simple add-on that prevents me from having to make Skronk's mouse-over macros for healing. It. It only gives me the list of groups with their health status and some spells next to each name I can click to apply to that person. It does not require me, I still decide who and when to heal, it only gives me some simple buttons to crush to ensure that I fall a healing on the right person. We took the opportunity to look for some of the secondary adventures that were part of the instance. We discovered, for example, that Emi Shortfuse was still there with the event of the Trogg tunnel. You can talk to her and you can kill Troggs like before, ending with Grubbis and Chomper. You don't have to fight all the way to the first boss. You can simply jump over the edge on where we are in the picture above and float until the viscose fall. Like alarms, mines don't have many success points, so they can be quickly eliminated, but you have to keep your eyes open during a fight. Battling a sentinel bird, I think I still managed to pull someone out of the track, but I managed to stay Also, Also, I seemed to be hitting okay.Ã I was in no danger of being top damage, but I was adding as much weight as I could at my level. Scscla spotted and opening and made a dash for one of the ÃÂÂcoke machinesÃÂÂ around the center pillar of the room.Ã However, she strayed to close to a mob and was in combat.Ã Taking damage we ran out to support her and managed to get a few more mobs on us.Ã We were quickly in over our head and a wipe seemed imminent. If we were good enough getting to the Crowd Pummeler wouldnÃÂÂt take too long.Ã And if we were not good enough, well, that would take even less time unless we chose to bang our collective heads against a wall a few times.Ã So we met up in Ironforge and trotted on down the road to Gnomer. It was a successful run, but not without its share of wipes.Ã The Recount total of deaths for Gnomeregan round 2: Repair time After that we ran around the boss room, there being a memory of a chest or something in there.Ã But there was nothing, so we all stoned back home to get on the quest turn ins. When we were previously at the instance there had something of a scene going on, with a group jumping out of the instance having gotten into some trouble within, only to get jumped by the mobs outside the instance.Ã This time around all was quiet. Given enough time they will summon a pack of helpers who can make your life rough. The experience was huge from quests and kills. (It was Monday morning for Earl in Japan, so he was off the list.) The discussion went around, but Moronae still wanted that staff, the Manual Crowd Pummeler, from the Crowd Pummeler 9-60 boss in Gnomer.Ã And I canÃÂÂt blame him, it is a great item.Ã IÃÂÂd love one for my pally.Ã So we figured we would just run in through the back door, get to the Crowd Pummeler, and take him down.Ã Easy days. More clearing then up the ramp to the Electrocutioner, where we brought him down in short order.Ã Again, a single mob No problem for me. She dropped the Lagnut ring once again, going 4 to 4 on that hour. He went to Scscla, who had an empty crack and that he could use it. We realized that we had clearly cleared the third hand paper machine, but a precedent was missing from the dormitory. Obama had also finished with â € œmate coke of coke and Alioto had collected to collect those and was almost done. Finally, in the sixth attempt I got the hydrocan. I had already trained the statistics on Tistann, so I could keep it, I just had to go back to the coral reef to finish things. He worked like a sample, especially because I didn't have to fight with it, taking the Murlocs at hand with my gun. You brought me here, now give me the cursed mission! â € "Feb 2011 â €" We perform the cataclysm version of the application. The last time we put both wheels, the DPS Ranged, on the patrol of the bomb buttons as they could stay at a distance and still contribute damage. This time it would have been Ula and Wil, Ula, because she had varied and Wil because I doubted that a level 26 Pallly would have inflicted a lot of damage to a level of level 34. I had actually done well for the DPS up to this point, given the My level, but this time it was probably asking too much. I think I have to turn off just a parachute, turning to hit Thermaplugg as I was waiting for, and Ethelred should have turned off two. But we burned Thermaplugg so fast that not all chutes came into play. Dungeon's seeker brought us back to Gnomeregan. It was noted that we all had another parachute in our bags, so I guess you only get one to enter the application, no research required. So, while things were very manageable so far, the moment we poured into the tunnel with dark iron agents and their mechanical friends, things They became more difficult, even if it would take a while to notice how we were in the head. We ran out of irony and to the request. Earl and I shared the missions we had between us, so stopped to get the punchcard update and Techbotʼs brain. Unfortunately, he dropped the Acidic Walkers instead of the Hydrocane.Ã Ã And then I had to get back out. Trying to flee from our wipeʼÃÂ¦Ã it didnʼÃÂÂt work Come Sunday it seemed possible that there might be a big enough group for a try at the next Scarlet Monastery instance at some point, but as the day wore on into evening, we could only scrape together three of us.Ã Ã Our small group consisted of: Viniki ¢ÃÂÂ level 32 gnome warrior Skronk ¢ÃÂÂ level 32 dwarf priest Moronae ¢ÃÂÂ level 32 night elf druid That makes up the holy trinity of WoW groups, but it is a little light on the DPS front.Ã Ã Also, it was getting a little late to start on a big new endeavor.Ã Ã I have a rule about not starting anything new after 8pm on work nights, built on a long history of kicking of something small that ends up keeping me up well past my bed time. Moronae with the Manual Crowd Pummeler Having moved some levels beyond Gnomer, I figured I wouldnʼÃÂÂt be going back.Ã Ã But then I wanted to wrap up some of the Mirage Raceway and Stranglethorn Vale quests, which include a couple of underwater runs in the Vile Reef off the coast. With the same result.Ã Ã Acidic Walkers. Among other things in this video, you can see the Viscous Fallout wandering up on us, the fight in the sloped room, the chaos of mobs showing up in the Gauntlet, the pathing issues I mentioned, and how quick the Electrocutioner 6000 fight and why we took the fight in that dark corner. Most of the time it is malachite or copper ore. When you get to the gnomish holdouts, they have several of these Sparklematic machines. As expected, we managed to pick up the white punchcard and upgrade that at the first set of machines.Ã Ã Then it was off to wait for Techbot to spawn.Ã Ã Despite those who rushed to level cap in the first month, there are still a substantial number of people running lower level instances.Ã Ã He died every time we ran. and it was once again. I down, the mines died around and a crowd left sheep that left us with a free run down the ramp where we were able to collect the mobs down to one. Then it was time to open the Great Door, bring the two groups behind it one at a time. This time fighting in a lit section of the platform just over 30 minutes we were already up to where we did it last week. Things were going smoothly as we drove to the tunnel that led us from the Pumeler 9 -60 crowd. Ã Moonae has covered one of the possible drops. Gnomeregan "" ", we checked the Dungeon Finder and we saw that the instance of the cemetery in the monastery of Scarlet opened us. Earl and Mezzmon Attack, Skronk Heal, Ula, Bung and I serve as buttons until each of us closed the mouths of our assigned faces, then in struggle. It's full of gnomes! However, there are anguishing number of gnomes fleeing from the place when you enter. Everyone's out of the area a higher level. Then it was the side tunnel that empties into the ramp leading to the final boss, Mekgineer Thermaplugg. We were close enough to the end. And then our problems started. Thermaplugg runs throughout the room, so it is an active fight and throws people to good size, so it was a wild race. Pulling back the floor from the main room and then, while we were facing one of the melts that the viscous falls away behind Moronae and the fight was up. Honestly I thought it was just another elementary, and the fight went pretty fast.Ã But it turns out we had another boss down. I don't know why we all had to overcome the pillar, but after we did it again in the tunnel in which we remembered at home. It is not a good show for us. The struggle itself was not particularly difficult. Carde punch you need a prismatic postcard for the "Rescue data" mission. I get there by collecting a series of punch cards, each give you access to others. We started a little late and, once we have passed a discussion, the Discovery Channel show "born with two heads" on a last search coming soon. Skronk took them on the roll and wore them immediately. And then we got a walker as an add.ãÂ then an alarm bot show up and called for help before we couuld kill it.ãã and then somebody strayed too face left and we got a proximity pull from the walkway.. Once again we came across the situation of a MOD of © Lite with a group of non -elites on the tank which, when I healed SCSCLA, started to focus on me. I ran to the tank and went to heal myself when there was an accident. All the leper gnomes came out to play again, the garbage is just garbage. It took a while to cut everything, but we arrived â € ‹â €‹ at the door on the back, we opened it. And so it goes. "We're done with Gnomeregan now? We meet again the crowd Pumeler, however, the Pumeler disappointed again, letting fall boots rather than the bat 2h. moronae has already taken the boots in a past run, so by default to oily as the other leather door. were a great update, even if you need to get to level 28 to wear them. from there was around the crowd pummeler 9-60. we stayed along this path sometimes and, apart from the random alarm bot rolling behind us, it was not a tiring trip. we arrived at the crowd pummeler and took the fight with the earl back to the wall to keep the fight in a place when it came time to get thrown about. I was thinking about aliote, my druid, which could do those missions a day early. with the form of cat could steal to gnomer. but druids also have aquatic form, so maybe you won't need it. So he escaped to vile reef and did the missions hard, holding his breath, diving down, then running back to the surface. It didn't take too long. less time than it should have done eight races at the viscous fallout most likely, as I had done with vinylki. but it is still nice to have the water that breathes at hand, in case. He has a little alarmist with him who apparently ran away and killed him. The electrocutioner 6000 didn't fight much. the most important thing here is that when he died, maloney, ethelred and nancyboy leveled up to 27. right there in the Armenian city then there was a race towards the kharanos for the final round. That led to another mission at gnomer. Since, the fact that we need some other objects for another mission, and that a couple of us want the head drops we didn't get, and that we could all probably use some other levels before the scarlet monastery, we could still return to gnomer at least once again. We had a fight with a mechanical patrol and three agents. so we are erediccu erediccu omervodâ ,id ehgir el ognul ,ion rep inoisiced emirp enucla oserp ah ,72 aznatsabba non arocna ,otoilA Mob? â € Just as Alioto manages to pull the crowd with his ray of Doom Little. Ula published two short videos from our race. The first covers that enter the application through the Emi Shortfuse event. Thermaplugg defeated, but everything was a rather different experience from the one we moved on to our first race about four years ago. He goes back and looks at all the things I listed before. Entering through Dungeon Finder he did not give us all of those external missions and therefore we have never had to worry about coca machines, punching cards or essential artificial. Of the initial leg of that race, the only element worthy of note is that there is still a bug that makes the gnomes run outside one of the pillars on the ring around the electrocutioner 6000. which is obviously, there that We did. We managed to land everywhere and there was a little frenetic struggle while each of us brought our addition of the party to the party. This was the most dramatic event for ... most of the instance well. Here it is where we came across trouble. At the beginning we entered a vast section, avoiding the catwalk, above all because there was a "cooking machine" sitting there waiting for us. The pair of Mob next to it was not "it seems like a problem. If you look at it you will see" detonation "like the second or third more larger inflicter of damage to the whole party. Then it was out of the glove again, where we managed to clean up In the large room with electrocuction 6000 in the middle. In the end, however, he had died and we were still all alive. Thoughts a funny area even if it takes a long time to do it. However, we did it, nobody died and we arrived â € ‹â € to the ramp and we placed our eyes on the head not too long. Subsequently there were some questions about where to go. I remembered jumping out of the protrusion for Fallout's boss viscous, but I wasn't sure it was the best idea. So we decided to erase our waywhere ever, including that platform in the middle. Only when we arrived there we discovered that Xula and Earl, who were just shy of Level 26, failed to get the initial search of the area. The only one saw the feared gray exclamation point. We failed the search and, once failed, you can't get it back in the same instance. Earl and I, the crowd of scrums, we covered, we're always out and in front, but Bung, Ula and Skronk were not short. The Gnomeregan map segment from Retail Wow from there jumps from the protrusion into a big downward march. The fall lowers you to about half health, but it's not so bad. You need to help Kernobee get back to the entrance of the instance. I have to kill that alarm bot before someone listens to him in no time we're back to the Pumeler crowd for another shot. As with the first fight, the second went very well with only the three of us. When he was Down Moronae, he once again went to control the state of the loot. We went back to Gnomeregan sometimes, when we were doing Gnomeregan, looking for a couple of specific drops. The reverse of the medal, we five went in motion with six Gnomer missions in our register and only one of us, Skronk, came out with only one of those completed missions. They were not stonks. The first time we made the application in 2006 we did better, but we still went out with many missions. Last week's gnomer race could be assessed as a success. We entered, we made our way to Electocutioner 6000, got the key to the back door, killed the bosses until then, had a couple of intense fighting a death and had no zero wipes. This was the scene of our cleansing. It was therefore only an effort of clearing to reach Mekgineer Thermaplugg. Back to the cemetery we started running back, at that point I suggested that we could also cross the door this time to relaunch, after which we could jump from the protrusion, take the visual escape, get the car dormitory, and then Let's go back to where we died, from the Electrocutioner 6000, which had the third machine for the map. The lower floor and take the final punching machine. The piece of cake. And then something strange happened, which has not yet understood me. Somehow we managed to draw those who had to have been 6-8 additional mobs, dark iron agents and mechs who are mixed with them. Perhaps the proximity to a group of two at the bottom of the tunnel? È ,Éx it swores from the ramp to combat, making us erase again. All the fire, no ice not even at level 26, I could probably manage one of these non-elites of level 28-30, but when two or three began on me, I was in trouble. It was time to run to the tank, let's say â ¢ âvelop “Save the healer! Ã ¢ â,¬ on the item com, and tries to heal myself. That I died only three times was probably a good sign. A further healing from Fergorin or Morona was often the margin necessary to keep me alive. Fighting on the high platform, the fact that you can fall from high places in gnomer was a bit of a memory on how things have changed. I remember having been in cases in subsequent expansions and having found all sorts of invisible walls that prevent you from falling into anything. Look at their screams or you may sorrow. But I had an idea, a scheme that would have been short or extremely short, depending on how well we did. Therefore I said, "I said, "I'm sorry.Gnomeregan Stabilimento Shot We weren't going to do everything. I wasn't so angry, either. But I thought it was worth trying to get into the back door and see if we couldn't get to Crowd Pummeler 9-60. He had denied us that two mace, the Pummeler of the Race of the Manual, which Moronae was looking for. In three attempts, Crowd Pummeler had abandoned his leather boots every time. After that we were at the gauntlet race, where I stayed as close to the right wall as we fought our way through. The last punch machine was right there, so three of us finished the mission. We eliminated a little more to get to another of the “coke machines” and Alioto hit level 27 at the end. At that point Scscla only needed three more “coke machines” and she would be made. But where to go and find them? Dark iron agents return to combat and depose mines. We are on the road to Gnomeregan This instance is hard for our time (hide me with some caffeine) Because we're going, as we're going, we can't be sure I'm gonna run you from eight to five that we're gonna meet... Show of hands... Who will understand what I'm talking about when I make references to street movies or inevitably will I refer to Dorothy Lamour in this post? Come on. you in the back, you are old enough. Not many hands. Who is Tipa, Potshot, Genda and my mother? Anyway, when Potshot said we were for Gnomeregan, I wasn't exactly dazzling with joy. He wanted to take the place and I felt like a drip. Remember when I did that poll a while ago? The one where Gnomeregan landed on the love counter, and I wasn't shy to add my voice to the crowd on that subject. We were there once and this was enough for me. However, he explained that we were notHigh for none of the Scarlet monasteries, but they were in the first level range for Gnomer. And then he said: said: since the application was much less annoying. I was worried, however. I went soon and spent some time trying to understand exactly how we would have made a way from the base of the most neighboring horde that we could reach it to it that is practically the ironforte door. If nothing else, the pain of pain would certainly have been again in all our case with us who wander for the territory of the alliance with evident harmful intent. The proposal patiently explained that there was a research that sent us to Booty Bay, from where we would have taken a teleportation directly outside the application. The third or fourth attempt I really grabbed what was telling me. All we had to do was to take two missions in Orgrimar, go to Booty Bay and we have for our way. Thus the group for the night began to assemble. 26 Orc Samano - Earlthebat (Earlthecat) 28 Non -dead wizard - Bigbutt (Bunghlio) 28 Tauren Druid - Hurmoo (Vikund) 28 Elf Paladino ã ¢ âaste â € œ ENALIE (ULA (ULA) 28 Tauren Druid ã ¢ â,¬â € œ Azawak (Skronk) Azawak and Hurmoo were Huvi Ng Out in Booty Bay Directing People to Get the Quest. Salty Sailor Tavern When An Alliance Player A Few Levels Higher Walked In.ã ,Thinking to pwn the Hordie, he made a blow to Azawak, who was sitting in front of the door and holding a hand of axes of over eight years. The alliance player had a free blow, who did not do much damage, before the 75 Booty Bay Bruiser One -Shot level, Azawak said he almost spit that he was laughing so strong. Also that he answered me a question. I had been nervous around Booty Bay, since it is a contested territory, and I was not sure the guards would worry that people were settling. Now I know. Potshot says that Gadgetzen feels like Mos Eisley. How people escaped for The missions, we found our first problem. In addition to Azawak and Hurmoo, nobody could get both missions in Orgrimar. Try was Earl, and but perhaps it was short of a level to get it. Then Ealdie had the same problem and we knew that something had happened. Some searches have raised the fact that sometimes you can only get the teleporter mission, but once you run to Booty Bay and turn it on and get the teleportation token, you can then go back and get the other search. Maybe the taures are exempt? This was revealed to be the case for us, so after some trips, everyone was in Booty Bay and ready to go. "We were teleported outside Gnomer and we came across our next problem. The first effect of patch 3.3 took place on the door of the application, the feared" could not have created a message ". All messages. It's So skipped to perform instances after patch 3.3 that we stressed the system again. We met strangeness while trying to get an instance. We were all skipped in the Swirly portal, but when he kicked us out, we were on the other side of the portal . Unfortunately, the wait for the application server has not lasted too long. We are able to enter after about a minute and a half of jumps around. We tried to see if there was something else beyond the Portal, but you come across an invisible wall a dozen meters. -World version of gnomer waiting to be discovered it seems. Once, we started our rapid gnomer tour. All those missions of the alliance did not mean anything for no the. No trogs to kill, not tunnels to explode, no collection drop, no jimmyinging coca cola machines for a loose change, and no escort search. Well, we saw that the search for escorts was actually illuminated for us, but we decided to say only no. We were there for the scenario and the bosses, with our only real research. Slay and Loot Mekgineer Thermaplugg and, Without some of the annoying missions, Gnomer is not so bad. Of course, there are some oddities that have been around for centuries with npc and proximity routes, but overall things were good. It's and again to the low level of the level level for the instance, the experience was quite good.Ã Ã Everybody got at least one level along the way.And the bosses were quite good to us as well.Ã Ã A blue drop for everybody along the way, at least one of which was a level above the person who needed it.Ã Ã That is always good, getting a nice rare item just before you need it so you get maximum benefit out of it.On we went, deep into the bowels of the instance until we

But, once again, with him who needed to pour the healing ... the boss chasing the wheels removed them from the buttons so that while chasing the boss the bombs chased me. The usual chase around follows in the middle while Thermaplugg shakes off the attempts to keep it concentrated on the tank, while on the sidelines I chased the buttons. Gnomeregan that establishes Shot Sunday has seen us online again. The time outside was disgusting, with strong rains and strong winds, so my plan to go out and hang the holidays on the house was postponed. Time for games. Wilhelm ã ¢ â‚¬ "Level 26 Human Paladin Skronk - Level 30 Priest Nano Moronae - Level 30 Elf Druid Earlthecat - level" LEVEL UMAN Warrior Ula - Level 31 Mage Gnome Again I was far behind compared to the level compared to the group , so I had the enormous problem of the ray of the ray against me, also I was not sure I had been able to eliminate any damage that is worth noting at level 26.'hea ¢ but it was that or a hunter of 32, and not I was sure I wanted to go there. Also, we were just planning to go regarding the crowd Pumeler, so why not have some time on Pally? Manual statistics of the crowd Pumeler there are only three accusations for that increase in the attack speed, which did not show up when I clicked on the connected weapon. But even without it is a club that strikes hard and has a reasonably distinct look. So this time I fought more slowly. It took a while, but I went out safely, I restored the application and did it again. Acid walkers again. Another night for this. one.
